I am enrolled in CS381 in Spring 2020. I understand that this course is being taught by remote instruction because of the COVID19 crisis. The final will be taken and proctored by remote video (Zoom). The proctor will require some actions on my part to demonstrate my honest effort. I will cooperate with the proctor. This proctoring process is not a presumption of negative intention on my part. It is designed to protect earnest learners from the appearance of inappropriate access to information during the examination under remote administration. I understand that I may ask the proctor questions about the administration of the examination. To facilitate this communication the proctor will provide a phone number that students will send a text message to as instruction in order to establish contact. Any questions and concerns that I have may also be addressed to the instructor. In taking this examination I will not access information by any means that is inappropriate to the examination. I will not collude with other people during this examination. I will not access information by any means that is not allowed during the examination. The work that I produce and submit in this examination is my work alone based on what I have learned in the class.
